

MEN OF MARK.

A Connecticut man has a machine which General Grant used to split leather.

Ex-Secretary Chandler says he was responsible for the big butter contract of the Greeley relief expedition.

It is said that William D. Howells has become much embarrassed by the failure of his book, R. Osgood & Co.

Voltaire's heart is to be removed from the national library of the Pantheon, according to a vote of the council of the Seine.

The late Sir Moses Montefiore frequently sent checks for the relief of his needy coreligionists in Boston, and never less than $500 at once.

Charles F. Barker, Boston's champion checker player, is anxious to play A. J. Heffner of Providence a checker match for $200 a side and the chessboard.

Several foreigners are taking out naturalization papers. Some of them in signing their names make an X.

The Union Grove camp-meeting, near Geneva, is attracting many people from the city, and the attendance is very large and much interest is manifested.

Poor men cannot afford to live without protection. The T. B. A. offers the best.

Ragland has the finest assortment of jewelry and watches ever brought to this market.

Fathers insure in the T. B. A. Don't go in foreign associations.

Call at the Academy of Art and see the girls in photos. It exceeds all our expectations.

If you want something handsome in table knives, carvers, or scissors, call on Horstall & Cameron. New goods just received.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Borussia Brusich has returned to Berlin from Persia, after spending months in that country in the collection of notes to be used in literary works. Among his collections is a volume of poems and a tragedy by the Shah, which Professor Brusich proposes to translate. He says that all plays in Persia are of a religious character and that no scenery whatever is used.

Congressman Reagan of Texas, who is accused by the San Antonio Times of having a gubernatorial lock-in his office, was exonerated by that paper several days ago. He had nothing to say on the subject excepting that the candidates were all good men, but ascribed the president's slowness in making appointments to his desire to strictly enforce the civil service rules.

Dr. Delaunay, an eminent French physician, says that the most general position in sleep is on the right side, which comes when a person in that position, he says, as a rule are illogical, absurd, full of vivacity and exaggeration. Those who come to a sleep who lies upon his left side, in Delaunay's opinion, are not only less absurd, but also more intelligent. They are apt to be concerned with recent actual events and less with reminiscences.

Berlin papers announce with evident satisfaction that Minister Pendleton, to whom the name of "Gentleman George," has taken a high apartment fronting the Thiergarten, and is about to enrich Berlin with another cosmopolitan saloon. If their reports be correct, Mr. Pendleton has brought three elegant carriages and fine horses with him. Consultant Raine is furnishing quarters in the Margarethenstrasse, which he intends to make a social rendezvous for American visitors in the German capital.

FUNNYGRAPHES.

You can not judge of the quality and efficiency of a police force by the value of the diamond badge given its chief. —New York Tribune.

"A dollar a pound for ten," said the careful buyer. "Is not that too steep?" And the truthful grocer answered "Yes, sir"—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

The first policeman who has ever paid for a pint of peanuts has been discovered in New York, and the press is full of eulogies.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"I have here a letter directed to the prettiest woman in the house," said the presidentess of a woman's convention. Four reporters on the front seat were trampled to death in the rush for the speaker's stand.—Merchant Traveller.

Music boxes which cost $20 twenty years ago, can now be purchased for $5. And yet the cry of "hard times" is still abroad in the land. Some folks will complain of the "cost of living" if pianos were selling for $2 thousand.—Norristown Herald.

Secretary Whitney—Mr. president of the nation's leading bank. Did you spit on your suit? President Cleveland—Do you think I am such a fool as to waste cotton on the Potomac black bass? Pass over that botch of bait.—Chicago Tribune.

Bubby snubbed his toe and came huffy, "she said, after examining the extent of the injury. "You are too much of a boy to cry over a small thing like that." Well, in other, he then asked pleadingly, can I bigenough to make you feel better?"

At the exciting races "Shall women wear trousers?" At the risk of being reprimanded for interfering with the affairs of women, we would suggest that if they do wear them it will be necessary to discard the low-necked dresses or go without suspenders.—Woman's Journal.

For further information concerning her we will be pleased to give it to her at her home, 151 Mulberry street, New York. JOHN F. DALY, Y. H. Greenleaf St. Dennis, Mass., May 10, 1885.

Be sure to get the committee, and send for Treatment on Blood and Sain Diseases, 69. For sale by all druggists.

THE SWIFT RIFLE CO. Drawn, 2, Atlanta, Ga. 157 E. Twenty-third Street N. Y.

OT. FELIX GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifier

Portions as well as beautifying the skin. other cosmetic will do.

HORN ABOUT TOWN.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Indications for the heat gauge: Fair weather, except in northern portion, local rains, variable winds followed by slight fall in temperature.

Chicken feed at R. N. Palmer's.

Let Texans insure in the T. B. A. Buy your groceries at T. G. Gaither's.

Mr. Amos Dubose and his family came down from Decatur Thursday, and will make their home in the city.

Mr. W. S. Bickey, special commissioner of the North, Central and South American exposition, New Orleans, has come to the city.

County Assessor S. L. Norwood went down to Austin yesterday, and took the assessment rolls for 1885 with him.

Deane has the easiest method you ever saw with which to attract the "little one" attention.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's smoking syrup should always be used for children's asthma. It soothes the tickle without the gums, relaxes the pain, cures colds, and is the best remedy for diarrhea.

Attention, Anti-Prohibitionists!

The anti-prohibitionists of the First Ward will meet me at the mayor's office at 8 o'clock Friday evening, for the purpose of organization. A large attendance is expected.

What the Ladies Do Say.

That nothing equals Tucker's "H.I.T." Improved Iron Invigorator, for giving to them a hearty relish for food, thereby renewed strength and vigor is soon imparted.

Opera Hall is the best smoking tobacco in the state.

The prices of Ragland's goods defy comparison from any quarter.

Fresh groceries constantly on hand at L. Gathier's.

As Her's cigar emporiums you will always find the best cigars in Waco.

A large number of Wacoites will go down to Lorens to-day to hear General Sul Ross speak.

It is said that William D. Howells has become much embarrassed by the failure of his book, R. Osgood & Co.

Voltaire's heart is to be removed from the national library of the Pantheon, according to a vote of the council of the Seine.

The late Sir Moses Montefiore frequently sent checks for the relief of his needy coreligionists in Boston, and never less than $500 at once.

Charles F. Barker, Boston's champion checker player, is anxious to play A. J. Heffner of Providence a checker match for $200 a side and the chessboard.

Several foreigners are taking out naturalization papers. Some of them in signing their names make an X.

The Union Grove camp-meeting, near Geneva, is attracting many people from the city, and the attendance is very large and much interest is manifested.

Princess Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.

Edward Strauss has many marmalades when conducting an orchestral concert. According to a London journal he twirls his violin in the air, dances to his own music and rushes to and fro; he measures a musician to the right with his bow, to the left with his fiddle. He smiles as he weeps; he is particularly to the English mind, quite absurd.

Count Basine, the surrendereader of Moto, is said to be an impudent swindler on nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York Vernacular calls a "bum."

J. B. Fanning, of Newton county, Mississippi, was wounded in the face in 1865. Last week the bullet fell into his mouth, having been twenty-two years working up and down.

Minister Luttrell is still assisting Minister Kelley in diplomatic duties at the great court of France, but then they have to do much more to see in Paris than there is in St Petersburg or Vienna.

Count Staninach, court interpreter of Westchester county, N. Y., has fallen heir to a large fortune in Austria through the death of an aunt. The estate comprises extensive lands and a castle and about $50,000 in cash.

Two young Philadelphia sportsmen were recently tried for a whole day in Potter county by a bear which was afterward found out, but they were acquitted—an escaped pet, but they paid $20 for the privilege of shooting it.